

Helpline to provide psychiatric help

New Delhi: CM Sheila Dikshit launched a round-the-clock helpline on Wednesday for providing psychiatric services to people in the city. The helpline number — 1860 266 2345 — will be manned by psychiatrists and trained professionals, who will guide those requiring assistance and support in case of psychiatric and mental health problems. The helpline has been set up by Vandrevala Foundation, which has been providing similar services in several other cities. "This is part of our mission to provide assistance to a large number of patients," said Arun John, executive VP of the foundation. TNN
